TATTING

Tattling shuttles are shaped like the one illustrated. Some are made with a hook at one end which is used to pull the thread through loops in joining. However, for a beginner the one without a hook is easier to manage as the hook makes speed and it is to be in the way. Instead of using the hook to pull the thread through in joining, a crochet hook or a pin may be used. The real dainty tattering use "STAR" Brand Tattling Cotton. It is made in white and a variety of beautiful colors. For heavier tattering use "V. M." Brand Mercantile Gaiter Cotton size 20 to 30.

WINDING THE SHUTTLE

If the bobbin is removable and has a hole around the middle, the thread you wind the bobbin with will fit. If bobbin is not removable wind thread around it from in center of shuttle but never allow thread to project beyond the shuttle.

The simplest form of tattering is the ring. This is made with one shuttle only. When making a design of chains use two shuttles or 1 ball and 1 shuttle are used.

When a design of rings worked with two colors is made use 2 shuttles. While learning we suggest using "STAR" Brand Mercantile Gaiter Cotton size 20.

It must be remembered when learning to tat that the knot is made on the shuttle thread and not with it though all action is done with the shuttle thread. This is accomplished by casting the thread around fingers and pulling the shuttle thread taut.

DOUBLE STITCH

Insert the shuttle as the thread is drawn to the knot. Hold the shuttle between the thumb and index finger of right hand, with the thread coming from the bottom. Take the end of thread between the middle and forefinger of the left hand and pass it around the outstretched fingers, crossing it under the thumb. (Ill. No. 1.)

With the shuttle in your hand, pass the shuttle thread under the index finger of the hand just below the point of finger. Pass the shuttle between first and second fingers of the left hand, under shuttle and ring thread and bring it back over ring thread allowing the ring thread to fall slack by bringing the four fingers of the left hand together. (Ill. No. 2.) Pull shuttle thread taut and then spread the fingers of left hand till ring is close to fingers and thumb of left hand and pull tight. (Ill. No. 3.) The second half of the stitch is made in the opposite way. Allow the shuttle thread to fall slack; pass shuttle over ring thread and back under ring thread and over shuttle thread. (Ill. No. 4.) Pull shuttle thread taut and tighten ring thread and second half of stitch slips into place beside the first half. (Ill. No. 5.)

By pulling the shuttle thread, the stitch slips back and forth. If it does not, the stitch has been worked by a wrong motion and must be made over again. Practice the double stitch until they can be done without looking at instructions. A pivot is made by leaving a space between the stitches. (Ill. No. 6.)
