Store clerk disappears in Orange

By Gary Taylor

OF THE STAFF

A clerk disappeared from the east Orange County convenience store where she was working, leaving behind her car and purse.

Orange County sheriff's investigators were trying to find Delon D. Poe, a clerk at the Circle K at Fall Road and Alton Avenue in Goldenrod. Poe, 26, is 5-foot-3 and 100 pounds, with blue-green eyes and medium-length blond hair.

Sheriff's spokeswoman Denise Gainer said there is nothing missing from the store, and there are no signs of a struggle. Poe's Circle K smock, worn by employees over their clothes, was inside the store. Her purse was in her locked car, and the car keys were in her purse.

One of the store's regular customers called the sheriff's department last before 4:30 a.m. after discovering Poe wasn't there.

The woman was the one when her boyfriend visited her at the store about midnight, Gainer said.

She said Poe, who lives in an apartment complex near the store, moved to the Orlando area from Washington, D.C., last October.

Gainer said that according to Poe's friends, the clerk has been working two jobs to save enough money to start her own business. Besides her job at the Circle K, Poe works in the retail advertising department of The Orlando Sentinel. Gainer said she did not know what business Poe wanted to start.

Anyone with information should call the sheriff's office at 657-2500.
